

12 WOMEN WERE ARRESTED

Another Vain Attempt of Suffragettes to Secure Audience with Premier Asquith

WILD NIGHT SCENES IN LONDON

Several Thousand Policemen Surround House of Parliament—Militant Suffragettes Smash Windows of Government Buildings with Stones Wrapped in Paper—Police Inspector Gets His Face Slapped.

London, June 29.—The thirteenth vain attempt of the militant suffragettes to obtain access to Premier Asquith by deputation resulted in exciting scenes in Parliament square to night and the arrest of more than one hundred women. The plan of campaign followed the lines previously employed by the suffragettes. The "women's parliament" assembled in Caxton hall at 8 o'clock in the evening and sent a deputation, headed by Mrs. Parkhurst, to endeavor to see the prime minister, who had previously decided not to receive the deputation.

Deputation With Police Escort. Enormous crowds of onlookers assembled in the vicinity of parliament square before the time set for the raid upon the house, among which large bodies of police, numbering several thousands, had taken up strategic positions. The first noteworthy incident was the arrest, after a great deal of trouble, of a woman suffragette, who tried to penetrate the police cordon to take a message to the premier. Next appeared the deputation under command of Mrs. Parkhurst, who was escorted by a large crowd of wild cheerers. Escorted by the police, the deputation arrived at the St. Stephen's entrance to parliament, where they were met by Inspector Sandhu, who had been told by Mrs. Parkhurst that the deputation was coming.

Angry throwing the letter on the ground, Mrs. Parkhurst exclaimed: "I stand on my rights as the king's subject to enter the house of commons." And she endeavored to force an entrance. Mrs. Parkhurst Slapped Inspector's Face. The police tried to induce the women to disperse quietly, and then began to take the members of the deputation by the arms and lead them away. To the surprise of the onlookers, who were gathered around the entrance, Mrs. Parkhurst slapped Inspector Jarvis in the face, knocking his cap in the mud. There were cries of "Shame!" and several of the inspectors told the suffragette leader that she had no right to do such a thing.

A moment later another member of the deputation, Mrs. St. John, was taken to the hospital for a second time, while others made determined attempts to rush the cordon of police. Eventually the entire deputation was placed under arrest.

Attempt to Force Underground Passage. By this time a second deputation had left Caxton hall, accompanied by some hundreds of suffragettes and others, and an attempt was made to reach the house of commons through the underground passage leading from Westminster bridge. This, too, was unsuccessful, but for two hours the whole district was in a state of confusion, with the police dispersing the crowds and arresting women by the wholesale.

Windows Smashed. The windows of many of the government buildings were smashed with stones wrapped in paper.

Premier Not Arrested. Altogether 112 women were arrested, including Mrs. Parkhurst, Mrs. St. John, the Honorable Mrs. Haverhill, daughter of Lord Arlingford, Miss Margaretson, daughter of Lady Margaretson, Miss Maud Joachim, niece of the violinist, and many other prominent women.

Alumni Day at Yale. Many Gatherings of Graduates—Two Memorial Tablets Unveiled.

New Haven, Conn., June 29.—Alumni day at Yale was one of special interest to graduates today, as there were many gatherings of the graduates, and two memorial tablets were unveiled in Memorial hall and announcements were made that Cornell University had founded a memorial fund to Dean Wright.

Tomorrow President Taft will honor the commencement exercises in Woolsey hall with his presence, common to a fellow of the corporation and marching with the other fellows in the column which is formed on the college campus. Later in the afternoon, he will march in column for he came here for the reunion of his class of 1878, and in cap and gown followed the great mass which always precedes the commencement and the university officers.

President Taft will be a speaker at the alumni dinner in the afternoon. Among those whom he will see here will be his brother, Charles P. Taft, who is back for his class reunion, the class of '44.

Yale will be given at the Yale commencement tomorrow 814 degrees, exclusive of honorary degrees, as follows: Bachelor of Arts 49, Bachelor of Philosophy 22, Bachelor of Science 1, Bachelor of Laws 7, Bachelor of Civil Law 1, Bachelor of Divinity 21, Master of Arts 8, Master of Laws 16, Master of Science 2, Master of Philosophy 3, Master of Mechanical Engineering 3, Master of Forestry 27, Doctor of Civil Law 1, Doctor of Medicine 15 and Doctor of Philosophy 41.

BOSTON RAILROAD HOLDING CO. Vote to Purchase Billiard's 10,000 Shares of B. and M. Stock.

Boston, June 29.—At the first meeting of the Boston Railroad Holding company, an organization incorporated by the last legislature to settle the railroad situation in this state, it was voted to purchase the 10,000 shares of Boston and Maine stock now held by John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn.

The incorporators also admitted two Boston business men, Theodore C. Vail, president of the American Bell Telephone company, and Philip Dexter, as members of the company.

SEVEN WIFE BEATERS JAILED. Claim That the Hot Wave is Responsible for the Assaults.

Whiting, Ind., June 29.—Seven men who were taken to jail today for beating their wives will plead in court that the hot wave drove them to assault. The most serious of the wife-beaters made was by James Brown, who threw a shoe at his wife and tore off one of her ears. He was fined $25. Returning home last night he beat his wife so severely that she probably will die. He said his anger against her had been heated to frenzy by the weather. The other six alleged wife-beaters also charge their rage to the weather.

OBITUARY. Dr. Edward Cornet.

The many friends of Dr. Edward Cornet will regret to learn of his death, which occurred at his home in Uncasville at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from paralysis. He had been sick for three years.

Dr. Cornet was born in Brussels 22 years ago, but has been a resident of this country for many years. He studied in Germany and was a practicing physician in New York for a number of years, after which he located at Montville, where he built up quite a practice, which he suffered a stroke from which he became paralyzed, and subsequently had two others. He was a preacher for two decades often in country churches. He belonged to the Episcopal church, in which he was much interested, particularly the uniformed rank.

He was a man of companionable disposition, kind and generous, and was much loved by his family and many friends by his genial qualities. He is survived by his wife and eight children, four sons and four daughters.

John W. Wolven.

John Wesley Wolven died at his home in Hartford Monday. For the past two years he had been in feeble health, with a long illness. Last week Tuesday he had a paralytic stroke and went into a state of coma from which he never rallied.

Mr. Wolven was born in Saugerties, N. Y., April 28, 1834. His mother was a cousin of Admiral Dewey. Mr. Wolven learned the trade of carriage maker, in which he became an expert. He first located in New York city and later at Albany, N. Y. From Albany he came to Norwich, where he established a carriage and harness business. In 1856 he located in Hartford and formed a partnership which continued until 1874, when Mr. Wolven retired. He then worked at his trade in Hartford, when he was appointed messenger of the supreme and superior courts of the state. He had since served as messenger of the supreme court and as messenger in continuous service in the state.

During his residence in Norwich he was chairman of the republican town committee for a time. He was prominent in fraternal organizations. At the time of his death he was a member of Washington lodge, Knights of Pythias; Trinity temple, Pythian Sisters; Charter Oak council, O. U. A. M.; Skaggs lodge, I. O. M.; Wauwamese council, Degree of Potomac, and was a member of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Connecticut in 1892, and last year in Boston took the supreme lodge degree. He was a member of the Windsor Avenue Congregational church.

Mr. Wolven was married three times. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth Case of Norwich. After her death he married, Sept. 27, 1858, Mrs. Emma Buckman of Norwich, who died Jan. 8, 1901. His third wife, who before their marriage was Clara Rigby of Middletown, survives him. He leaves two stepchildren, Frederick Bishel Rigby and Harriet Anne Rigby, both of Hartford. The funeral will be held today.

Fencing Broad Elm.

The iron railing that has been around the Old Broad Elm of Washington square has been removed and a wooden picket fence is being built in its place. The new fence was within the fence has also been turreted. This big tree will be one of the points of historical interest for celebration of the centennial of the city, and was planted by Clement Pashody in what was then the front yard of the old John Broad house, now the residence of ex-Mayor Calvin L. Harwood.

The Income and Corporation Tax

DISCUSSION OF THESE QUESTIONS IN THE SENATE.

REAL ATTITUDE OF ALDRICH

He Confessed His Advocacy of Corporation Tax as a Means of Defeating the Income Tax.

Washington, June 29.—With tariff schedules disposed of and the tariff question for a while at least against the intrusion of amendments, the senate today began consideration of the income and corporation tax questions.

Chairman Aldrich's Attitude. While the senate was more than four hours in formally coming to the question of the taxation of the income, the subject received more or less incidental attention while the tax provision was under consideration and it was during that stage of the proceedings that the most interesting occurrence of the day took place. This was the announcement of the real attitude of Chairman Aldrich toward the corporation tax.

250th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of the Founding of Norwich, July 5th and 6th provision, which he had introduced at the instance of the president.

Whispered Rumors Prove True.

It had for some time been whispered around the senate corridors that the Rhode Island senator had become an advocate of a tax on the earnings of corporations as the most effective means of defeating a general income tax amendment to the pending bill.

Mr. Aldrich today stated his own position, which was in accordance with the rumors. He spoke in response to a question from Senator Clay and in so many words confessed his advocacy of the corporation tax as a means of defeating the income tax. He added another reason, which was that he thought for the next year or two there would be a deficit in the treasury receipts which he was willing to have made good by the proposed agreement. With this service performed he thought the law could and would be materially modified if not entirely repealed.

Tillman's Tax Amendment Lost.

With only one amendment pending when the senate met at 10 o'clock, it was supposed that it would be put out of the way soon and that, in accordance with the unanimous agreement, the senate would immediately take up the internal tax questions. But that amendment was a proposition for a duty of ten cents per ton on tea, and Mr. Tillman was behind it.

Notwithstanding Mr. Tillman's strenuous effort, his tax amendment was voted by the senate 55 against 45, as opposed to 18 for. The provision had the support of only two democrats—Mr. Bayne and Mr. Tillman.

Income Tax Finally Taken Up.

When the income question was formally taken up, Senator Lodge moved as a substitute for Senator Bailey's income tax proposition a measure providing for a general duty of ten cents per ton on tea, and a duty of five cents per pound on sugar, and a duty of five cents per pound on coffee, and a duty of five cents per pound on cocoa.

The Corporation Tax Provision. Senator Flint, who will have charge of the corporation tax provision, spoke at some length in explanation of the measure, and was followed by Senator Dixon, who advocated the retention of the inheritance tax provision on the preference to any of the income tax measures. Senator Flint expressed the opinion that at the present time, on the net earnings of the corporations of the country the revenues would be $100,000,000. Senator Keam placed the figure at $100,000,000. Senator Cummins began a speech in support of an income tax, but had not concluded when the senate adjourned at 6:15.

SEIZED DRIVE OF SAW LOGS. Illicitly Cut in Canada and Towed In to American Waters.

Rainy River, Ont., June 29.—An immense drive of saw logs, about fifteen thousand, which had been cut illicitly on the Canadian side and towed into American waters, was seized on Saturday night on the banks of the Washington government. The logs will probably be returned to the owners of the permits under which they were cut.

They were cut by half-breeds, who had arranged to sell them on the American side.

Bloody Outbreak of Russian Political Prisoners.

Seattle, Wash., June 29.—A cable despatch from Rome, Italy, describes a bloody outbreak of Russian political prisoners in the Yakutsk district, Siberia, and the flight of the mutineers across the wilderness toward Berings strait, in an effort to reach Alaska. Four Cossacks were ambushed and killed, and twelve wounded.

Timothy Gleehrist Is All Right.

Timothy Gleehrist of Westerly, who it was thought had taken Paris green for a few nights ago, was seen Tuesday. He has fully recovered from his trouble, but he says he did not want to attend a doctor as he had been a member of the potato and because of his actions, due to another kind of poison, it was thought he had taken the green stuff.

Bankrupt Estate.

Before Referee in Bankruptcy Ames A. Browning the creditors of the estate of Mrs. Martin J. Russell of New London declared upon Charles E. Hickory of New London as trustee, and he was appointed, his bonds being $1,000. The liabilities are $2,100 and the assets $1,800. She conducted a millinery business in New London.

Launch Party.

There was a delightful moonlight sail to Browning's Beach and return on Tuesday evening by a party of 15 persons. The launch was captained by about 7 o'clock and reaching home at 11. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. N. Eugene Smith and was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Slaver Leon Ling Had Accomplices

NEW LIGHT THROWN ON THE CHOP SUEY HOUSE CRIME.

EXPRESS AND TAXICAB DRIVER

Give Information Concerning Movements of Trunk Containing Body of Miss Sigel—No Clue to Leon.

New York, June 29.—Information is at hand tonight which for the first time since the discovery of the murder of Miss Sigel eleven days ago, definitely established that Leon Ling must have had accomplices and that, though a telegram signed with his name and in his writing was sent from Washington, he could not have been there on the date on which the message was sent. The police have also accounted in detail for the movements of the body as it was hurried here and thither in panic after the crime, up to the moment of its discovery in the bed room of Leon Ling over an Eighth avenue chop suey restaurant.

Detectives Scouring New Jersey. But though the detective force has a dozen men in the neighboring towns of New Jersey, and Inspector McCallerty reiterated tonight his confidence that the murderer would be caught, there is nothing known publicly from which it can be inferred that his arrest is nearer than it has been at any time during the past week.

Expressman Logan's Story.

The facts as to the movement of the body in New York, now added to the details previously unearthed concerning the trip to Newark, N. J., came out through Arthur Logan, an expressman in the employ of the Constitution Express company of this city, who told about the body's journey on the high-speed train, and the others who were to be associated with them now have, as far as the house is able to give it, the right to build and operate a street railway along the following routes: In the town of Killingly, beginning at any convenient point in the village of Daniel, which connects with the New York and New England road, and running easterly to Attawaugan, the capital of the corporation is fixed at $50,000 and may be increased to $100,000.

Noticed Four Chinamen Moving About.

When Logan entered the Eighth avenue house shortly afterward, he found Leon Ling waiting for him at the door. He noticed that the man he saw, the door to his room stood open, but it was so dark that the police looked to the expressman like a ghost. He noticed that it was about 11 o'clock when he saw the man, and in fact he did not see the trunk until he stumbled on it, but he noticed that the door to the adjoining room was ajar and the street outside was dark. He noticed that it was about 11 o'clock when he saw the man, and in fact he did not see the trunk until he stumbled on it, but he noticed that the door to the adjoining room was ajar and the street outside was dark.

Harlem Celestial Waiting for Trunk.

Logan lifted the trunk with the help of his regular assistant, and though it is strong man, found it rather heavy. He noticed that the trunk was in fact he did not see the trunk until he stumbled on it, but he noticed that the door to the adjoining room was ajar and the street outside was dark.

Ling Hired a Taxicab to Newark.

Nearly eight hours later a well-dressed Japanese, as the starter of the New York Taxicab company then thought him, called at the company's branch office, at the corner of 15th street and Eighth avenue, and asked how much it would cost him for a taxicab to Newark. He was told $12 and instructed the driver, who was waiting to call at Wah Kee's laundry for "something," to take him to Newark.

He was paid and drove back to New York.

Leon Ling Had Vanished.

The foregoing facts accounting for the removal of the body to Newark, came out for the first time today through the testimony of Arthur Logan, Martin Lauria, his narrative dovetailed with the testimony of James Halstead, a Newark cabman, who took the body to Newark on the afternoon of the same day, where the body stayed until found by the police. Leon Ling vanished in the meantime.

Chung Sing Could Tell More.

It seems clear, to have been in the various places mentioned, Leon could not have spared the time for a trip to Washington. His hosts at the suspicious foreign hotel of his coming and Chung Sing, when he swore the trunk was in the Eighth avenue house on the night of June 8, and that the door between his room and that of Leon Ling was never open, evidently had a lapse of memory. Whether he saved his own skin or that of his pal, it is clear that he knows a great deal more than he has yet told.

Shawmut Car Protest Disallowed.

Seattle, Wash., June 29.—The protest of the Shawmut car against the award of the first prize in the New York car race to Seattle automobile race, Ford car No. 2, was disallowed today by Referee Robert Guggenheim, who found that the evidence did not show any of the charges that the Ford car had violated the rules. The trophy cup and $2,000 go to Ford car No. 2, and the second prize of $1,500 to the Shawmut car.

Love Letter Found in Bungalow

GIVEN OUT BY OFFICIALS FOR PUBLICATION.

SENTIMENTAL LANGUAGE

Mrs. Woodill's Warm Attachment for Eastman—Letter from Boston Reveals the Champagne Bottle Story.

St. Michaels, Md., June 29.—The feelings entertained by Mrs. Edith May Woodill toward her slayer, "Lama Bob" Eastman, were indicated in a letter signed "Edith," parts of which were found in the bungalow of the murderer and suicide last Saturday and given out for publication today. The missive, which is in Mrs. Woodill's handwriting, and couched in most sentimental language, was presumably sent to Eastman. It not only indicates a warm attachment for the man, but seems to prove that she had known him at least a year or more.

"Little Dear: I cannot live after our

"With the coming of you and parting ever before me. If we meet in the unknown let's continue the blissful time that we spent here. I am with you in every thought."

Passages from Letter Signed "Edith."

"The letter signed 'Edith' contains the following passages: 'Is the iron immodest when it creeps through loadstones and clings to its side? Is the seed immodest when it sinks into the ground with budding life? Is the cloud bold when it softens into rain and falls to earth because it has no other choice, or is it brazen when it nestles on the bosom of heaven's arched dome and sinking into the blue-black infinity ceases to be itself?'"

"Is the human soul immodest when, drawn by a force it cannot resist, it seeks a home, such as yours above its ego as the blue sky absorbs a floating cloud and as the warm wind awakes the sea, as the magnet draws the iron? 'I do not feel myself to be bold or wrong or in myself for drifting toward you as I do. I would not feel myself wrong to go straight to you to-morrow.'"
